

Western Bird Banding Association
Annual Meeting, August 12-14, 2011
Scientific Presentations

Danny Bystrak, Bird Banding Laboratory

Title - Bird Banding Lab Update

John Cavitt, Weber State University

Title - Population Size of Snowy Plovers Breeding in North America

Renée Courmier, PRBO Conservation Science

Title - Establishing the Breeding Provenance of a Temperate-Wintering North American Passerine, the Golden-crowned Sparrow, using Light-Level Geolocation

Mike Gregg, US Fish and Wildlife Service

Title - Burrowing Owl Conservation at the Umatilla Chemical Depot, Oregon 2008-2011

Luke Hall, Weber State University

Title - Comparative study of Trapping Methods for Ground-nesting Shorebirds

Rich Hansen, Utah Division of Wildlife Resources

Title - Urban Canada Goose Banding and Relocation in Utah

David Hodkinson, Klamath Bird Observatory

Title - How to Catch Big and Little Dippers

Danielle Kashube, Institute for Bird Populations

Title - The Institute For Bird Populations: Happenings And Results From IBP's Programs

Robert Knight, US Army

Title - A Management Approach to Raptor Demography and Cheatgrass Invasion Risk: Managing and Modeling the Ecological Trap Hypothesis

Wade Leitner, Bird Works

Title - Results from Aerial and Other Nets in the Canyons and Riparian Areas of Southeastern Arizona

Katie McVey, US Fish and Wildlife Service

Title - Trophic Ecology of Burrowing Owls in Natural and Agricultural habitats, and an Analysis of Predator Communities using Stable Isotopes of Carbon and Nitrogen

John Neill, Utah Division of Wildlife Resources

Title - What Is So Great About Great Salt Lake, Utah?

C. J. Ralph, US Forest Service

Title - A New Tool for Integrated Analysis of Life History Data from Capture and Recapture Data

Josée Rousseau, Humboldt Bay and Klamath Bird Observatories

Title - The Values of Unbanded Data: What We Learned from Anna's Hummingbird Captures in the Klamath-Siskiyou Bioregion

Bradley Stringer, Weber State University

Title - Use of Unmanned Aircraft to Monitor Colonial Nesting Birds on Bear River Migratory Bird Refuge, Utah